ORGANIZATION.

The plan of instruction is so adjusted as to allow any who choose, to omit the study of Latin or Greek, substituting in their stead Modern Languages, and a more extended Mathematical and Scientific Course. Hence, the students in each class will be divided into two sections, corresponding to the two Courses of Study, and distinguished as the Classical and Scientific Sections.

The Regular Course for all students extends through four years; at the end of which time, those who pass a good examination in prescribed studies are admitted to a degree—those who have pursued the entire Classical Course, to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and those who have pursued the Scientific Course, to that of Bachelor of Sciences.

Young gentlemen desiring to attend the recitations of particular departments, without becoming candidates for degrees, are allowed to do so, provided they have the requisite preparation for the studies of those departments, and become subject to the laws of the University. This arrangement is designed to meet the wants of those whose age or pursuits prevent them from pursuing either of the Regular Courses, but who are desirous of obtaining the liberal culture which the study of a portion of the Courses will give them. Special pains are taken to give such persons the opportunities for instruction which they require.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the University are expected to furnish satisfactory testimonials of character; and if from other Colleges, certificates of regular dismission.

No person will be admitted to the Freshman Class who has not completed his fourteenth year, or to an advanced standing, without a corresponding advance in age.

Monday and Tuesday before Commencement, and the opening of the following term, are the regular times for examining candidates. The examinations may take place at other times, at the discretion of the Faculty.

PREPARATORY STUDIES.

1.—Classical Course.

English, Latin and Greek Grammars, Four Books of Cæsar's Commentaries or Cornelius Nepos, Six Books of Virgil's Æneid, Cicero's Select Orations, Translating English into Latin, Greek Reader, Three Books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Geography, Arithmetic, and Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations.

2.—Scientific Course.

Candidates for the Scientific Course are required to sustain a thorough examination in Spelling, Defining, Reading, Writing, Geography, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations, English Composition, History of the United States, Ancient History and Geography, (equal to the amount of Taylor's Manual,) and Constitution of the United States; and are recommended to pursue the study of Latin, at least one year, as a preparation for the study of English and other Modern Languages.

Persons who wish to pursue studies in this city or vicinity, preparatory to admission to the University, will find ample facilities for so doing, under the advice and direction of the Faculty.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

I.—Classical Course.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Modern History.
- Lessons on Morals and Christian Evidence—Whately.
- Algebra—Davies' Bourdon.
- Livy.
- Arnold's Latin Prose Composition.
- Kendrick's Greek Ollendorf.
- Selections from the Greek Historians—Felton.

SECOND TERM.

- Modern History, continued.
- Homer's Illiad—Felton.
- Livy.
- Latin Prose Composition.
- Greek Ollendorf, completed.
- Algebra, completed.

THIRD TERM.

- Homer's Illiad or Odyssey—Felton or Owen.
- Principles of English Grammar and Composition.
- Geometry—Robinson's new edition.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Rhetoric—Whately.
- Geometry, completed. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry—Robinson's.
- Select Roman Comedies and Satires.

SECOND TERM.

- History of Modern Literature—Spalding and Schlegel.
- Analytical Geometry—Davies.
- Select Orations of Demosthenes.
- French.

THIRD TERM.

- Selections from Tacitus—Anthon or Tyler.
- Surveying and Navigation—Davies.
- Natural Philosophy; Mechanics—Bartlett.
- Demosthenes on the Crown—Champlin.

JUNIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Logic—Whately, Thomson and Lectures.
- Select Greek Tragedies—Woolsey and Felton.
- Longinus on the Sublime, or Aristotle's Rhetoric.
- Differential and Integral Calculus. An extra study.
- Chemistry.

SECOND TERM.

Puetz' Ancient History and Geography.
Findlay's Classical Atlas, or Kiepert's Atlas der alten Welt.
Worcester's Dictionary.

Geological and Mineralogical Cabinets.

A most valuable and important addition to the educational means of the University has been recently made, by the purchase of the Great Cabinets of Geology and Mineralogy, collected by Mr. Henry A. Ward, now Professor of the Natural Sciences in this Institution. This purchase, at the low price of $20,000, has been accomplished by special subscription, made by liberal friends of the University, mainly in the city of Rochester. These Cabinets, now in processs of transfer, will occupy ten rooms in the third story of Anderson Hall, the largest of which rooms is 58 by 33 feet. The glass cases constructing to receive them, are nearly 700 feet in length, and are of such form as to give them the most perfect exhibition. These cabinets are an encyclopedia of the sciences which they illustrate. They were collected by Prof. Ward during six years of extensive foreign travel, and during many careful visits to a large number of the most fruitful American localities. Having been compiled from the first upon a plan which contemplated the most complete illustration of every point in these two departments of inorganic nature, it is believed that these Cabinets offer opportunities to students in these sciences which have not hitherto been presented in this country.

The Cabinet of Geology commences with a collection of over 3,000 rocks, arranged in orders and families, in explanation of the science of Lithology. Every rock species, as recognized by the latest authors, is contained in this series; and all points of interest in Technical or Economical Geology are illustrated with special prominence.

Another series of rocks presents those which are to some extent characteristic of each of the several geological formations. Other series are geographical in their character, and show the student the mineral composition of some typical geological regions,—as the Plutonic district of the Alps, the metamorphic strata of Tuscany, the products of extinct volcanoes of Central France, and the active volcanoes of Italy and Sicily, the Tertiary formations of the Paris Basin, and the mining districts of Saxony.

The collections of Fossils are from the standard localities in Europe and America, and represent the animal and vegetable life which covered the surface of our planet during each one of the great geological periods. The student here sees the earliest forms of animal life which teemed upon the land or in the waters, and can trace the addition of higher forms, as he passes along the series from the Corals and Shells of the Silurian period, to the gigantic Reptiles of the Oolite and the Mammals of the Tertiary.

A prominent feature of the Cabinet is that it contains Plaster Copies, perfect in form and dimension, of all those well-known genera of fossil Quadrupeds, the Labyrinthodon, Icthyosaurus, Plesiosaurus, Pterodactyle, Iguanodon, Megalosaurus, Mosasaurus, Zeuglodon, Megatherium, Mastodon, Cavern Bear, etc., etc.

A final section of the Geological Cabinet is a series of models, maps, sections, ideal landscapes, and cuts of fossils, intended to illustrate the lectures which are given upon these subjects.

The Cabinet of Minerals is equally rich and comprehensive. It begins with several extensive series of specimens intended to demonstrate the subjects of Crystalography, and the Physical Properties of Minerals.

The large systematic collection contains about 5,000 choice specimens, representing four-fifths of all the mineral species known. These are arranged according to the classification adopted in the last edition of Dana's system of Mineralogy, and are very handsomely mounted and carefully labelled.

These two Cabinets contain, in the aggregate, over 40,000 carefully selected specimens, and have, by their equal representation of all parts of the sciences of Geology and Mineralogy, as well as by their great size and beauty, elicited the unqualified admiration of men of science of the highest distinction, who have visited them. Many of these gentlemen, whose opinions would be decisive to all familiar with these sciences, have pronounced the Geological Cabinet, for the purposes of instruction, without an equal upon the American Continent.

Library.

The Library of the University is open at stated periods for consultation, and for the drawing of books. All the students have access to the Library on the payment of a small fee.

Rhetorical Exercises.

Orations are pronounced before the University, by students in the third term of the Junior, and the first and second terms of the Senior year; each student being required to exhibit twice in each term.

The Freshman and Sophomore Classes have a regular weekly exercise in Declamation, and Juniors and Sophomores are required to present original essays twice in each term.

Religious Exercises.

The public duties of each day are opened at a quarter before nine o'clock, A. M., with reading of Scriptures and Prayer, in the University Chapel. The students are required to attend, unless specially excused by the Faculty.

Recitations and Lectures.

The recitations are heard from 9 to 12 o'clock, A. M., each class having three daily exercises of one hour. The number or length of these exercises may be increased at the discretion of the Faculty. On Saturday, the classes attend in the Lecture Room but one hour. Instruction is given in text books, in connection with frequent Lectures.

Merit Roll.

An exact daily record is kept of the attendance, conduct and recitations of each student, as well as of the sufficiency and insufficiency of the excuses rendered for delinquency. Summaries of these records are made for every term and year. Being kept in a permanent form, they will determine the standing of each student at any period of his connection with the University, and in the end will exhibit a complete history of his College course for subsequent reference.

Moral and Religious Culture.

It is the aim of the Faculty, in connection with the discipline of the intellect, to inculcate a pure morality, and the great truths and duties of Evangelical Christianity. Weekly prayer meetings are held in all the classes in the University. A Missionary Society for Inquiry, composed of members of the University and of the Theological Seminary, holds two public meetings monthly—one for prayer, and the other for a report on some important theme connected with the missionary enterprise.

Parents and guardians are requested to designate places of worship, at which their sons or wards shall regularly attend on the Sabbath ; and, also, to entrust the general supervision of their pecuniary expenditures either to some member of the Faculty, or to some other responsible person in the city.

In the Greek department there is a weekly recitation in the Greek New Testament.

Examinations.

1. Of all the Classes at the close of the first and second terms, on the studies of the term.

2. Of the Senior Class four weeks before Commencement.

3. Of the other Classes the week before Commencement, on the studies of the term.

Examinations are conducted by a combination of written and oral exercises. In the Greek and Latin Departments, students are required to make written translations, in the presence of the examining officer, of passages not previously read.

Public Exercises.

1. Junior Exhibition, on the fourth Friday in May.

2. Prize Declamation of the Sophomore Class, on the Monday evening preceding Commencement.

3. Commencement on the Second Wednesday in July.

Expenses.

Board can be obtained in private families at rates varying from $1.50 to $3.00.

Tuition per term,	$12 50
Incidentals (including Library),	2 50

The rules for payment of tuition, established by the Trustees, require the settlement of all bills at the commencement of each term; that students in the partial course pay full tuition, and that orders for tuition on scholarships, be presented as soon as received. No deduction is made for absence.

A large number of Students find profitable employment in the city, in teaching private pupils and classes, and in various other occupations; thus enabling themselves to provide in considerable part for the expenses of their education.

Indigent students for the Ministry, regularly approved by churches, receive assistance from the New York Baptist Union for Ministerial Education, and, under certain conditions, free tuition from the University.

Other indigent students, of good character, are occasionally assisted from funds at the disposal of the President.

Parents and guardians are earnestly requested to exercise a careful supervision over their sons or wards, and to discriminate between necessary and unnecessary expenses. Experience proves that nothing has a more unfavorable influence upon a student's moral conduct and habits of study, than the unrestrained use of money.

Literary Societies.

Two Literary Societies, the Delphic and Pithonian, are in efficient operation, and have attractive halls for their weekly meetings.

PREMIUMS, EXTRA STUDIES, &c.

Premiums are given in the University for Extra Studies, Essays and Declamations. All premiums are divided at the discretion of the Committee of Award.

Senior Prize Essay.

A premium will be given to the member of the Senior Class who shall write the best essay upon a subject selected by the Faculty.

The subject for the present year is—"Lord Macaulay as a Literary Critic."

Sophomore Prize Declamation.

A premium is given for the best exercise, by a member of the Sophomore Class, in Declamation.

Extra Studies with Premiums.

Students who are regular in attendance, and whose scholarship in all departments reaches a certain fixed standard, are permitted to pursue studies additional to the required curriculum, with a view to competition for premiums. The names of those who sustain successful examinations are honorably mentioned, in connection with the names of those who take premiums, in the Annual Catalogues of the University.

JUNIOR CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Junior Class who shall pass the best examination in Logical studies selected by the Faculty, which shall have been pursued in addition to the regular and required course.

The examination for the present year will be in METHODS OF INVESTIGATION, OF PROOF, AND OF REFUTATION.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Sophomore Class who shall pass the best examination upon some portion of a Latin author selected by the Faculty, which shall have been read in addition to the regular and required course of Latin study.

The examination for the present year will be upon the DIALOGUES DE ORATORIBUS OF TACITUS.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Freshman Class who shall pass the best examination upon some portion of a Greek author, selected by the Faculty.

The examination for the present year will be on the PANEGYRICUS OF ISOCRATES.

Extra Studies without Premiums.

Students who are regular in attendance, and whose scholarship in all departments reaches the standard before mentioned, are permitted to pursue studies additional to the required curriculum, under instruction of the Faculty, without competition for premiums. The successful prosecution of such studies is distinguished by honorable reference in the Annual Catalogues of the University.

Awards for the Year 1861--62.

The following are the names of young gentlemen who sustained honorable examinations in special studies, and of those among them who received premiums:

SENIOR CLASS.

For the best Essay on The Present War Considered as a Means of Increasing and Developing our National Virtues.

Charles E. Barto, Trumansburg, a First Premium.
Geo. W. Brown, Aurora, Ill., a Second Premium.

Committee of Award:
Rev. Calvin Pease, D. D.,
Samuel D. Porter, Esq.,
Hon Geo. G. Munger.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

For examination in the First Book of Cicero's Letters to Brutus,
Henry C. Bosley, Rochester, a First Premium.
Arthur D. Norton, East Elba, a Second Premium.
William H. Davis, Goshen, Ind.
George P. Ludlam, Brooklyn.
Albert J. Taylor, Brooklyn.

Committee of Award:
Rev. J. T. Coit,
Rev. R. M. Nott.

For excellence in Declamation:
George P. Ludlam, Brooklyn, a First Premium.
Milton G. Potter, Cowlesville,
Albert J. Taylor, Brooklyn, } Dividing a Second Premium.
Truman J. Backus, Syracuse, a Third Premium.

Committee of Award:

A. P. Capwell, Esq.,
W. F. Cogswell, Esq.,
Rev. H. Lincoln.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

For examination on the First Book of Xenophon's Hellenics.

Josiah H. Bissell, Rochester, a First Premium.
Edwin G. Chittenden, Parma, a Second Premium.
Charles J. Glass, Syracuse.
William C. Morey, Wyoming.

Committee of Award:

F. L. Durand, Esq.,
Prof. N. W. Benedict,
James E. Spencer, Esq.

Examined in extra studies, without competition for Premiums, and entitled to honorable mention in the Catalogue of the University:

Daniel S. Benjamin, Rochester, in the Georgias of Plato.
Grove Carl Gilbert, Rochester, in the Differential and Integral Calculus.
Volney R. Sage, Riga, in Differential Calculus.

ORGANIZATION.

The plan of instruction is so adjusted as to allow any who choose, to omit the study of Latin or Greek, substituting in their stead Modern Languages, and a more extended Mathematical and Scientific Course. Hence, the students in each class will be divided into two sections, corresponding to the two Courses of Study, and distinguished as the Classical and Scientific Sections.

The Regular Course for all students extends through four years; at the end of which time those who pass a good examination in prescribed studies are admitted to a degree—those who have pursued the entire Classical Course, to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and those who have pursued the Scientific Course, to that of Bachelor of Sciences.

Young gentlemen desiring to attend the recitations of particular departments, without becoming candidates for degrees, are allowed to do so, provided they have the requisite preparation for the studies of those departments, and become subject to the laws of the University. This arrangement is designed to meet the wants of those whose age or pursuits prevent them from pursuing either of the Regular Courses, but who are desirous of obtaining the liberal culture which the study of a portion of the Courses will give them. Special pains are taken to give such persons the opportunities for instruction which they require.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the University are expected to furnish satisfactory testimonials of character ; and if from other colleges, certificates of regular dismission.

No person will be admitted to the Freshman Class who has not completed his fourteenth year, or to an advanced standing, without corresponding advance in age.

Monday and Tuesday before Commencement, and the opening of the following term, are the regular times for examining candidates. The examinations may take place at other times, at the discretion of the Faculty.

PREPARATORY STUDIES.

1.—CLASSICAL COURSE.

English, Latin and Greek Grammars, Four Books of Cæsar's Commentaries or Cornelius Nepos, Six Books of Virgil's Æneid, Cicero's Select Orations, Translating English into Latin, Greek Reader, Three Books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Geography, Arithmetic, and Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations.

2.—SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

Candidates for the Scientific Course are required to sustain a thorough examination in Spelling, Defining, Reading, Writing, Geography, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations, English Composition, History of the United Slates, Ancient History and Geography, (equal to the amount of Taylor's Manual,) and Constitution of the United States; and are recommended to pursue the study of Latin, at least one year, as a preparation for the study of English and other Modern Languages.

Persons who wish to pursue studies in this city or vicinity, preparatory to admission to the University, will find ample facilities for so doing, under the advice and direction of the Faculty.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

1.—CLASSICAL COURSE.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Modern History.
- Lessons on Morals and Christian Evidence—Whately.
- Algebra—Davies' Bourdon.
- Livy.
- Arnold's Latin Prose Composition.
- Kendrick's Greek Ollendorff.
- Selections from the Greek Historians—Felton.

SECOND TERM.
- Modern History, continued.
- Homer's Iliad—Felton.
- Livy.
- Latin Prose Composition.
- Greek Ollendorff, completed.
- Algebra, completed.

THIRD TERM.
- Homer's Iliad or Odyssey—Felton or Owen.
- Principles of English Grammar and Composition.
- Geometry—Robinson's new edition.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Rhetoric—Whately.
- Geometry, completed. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry—Robinson.
- Select Roman Comedies and Satires.

SECOND TERM.
- History of Modern Literature—Spalding and Schlegel.
- Analytical Geometry—Davies.
- Select Orations of Demosthenes.
- French.

THIRD TERM.
- Selections from Tacitus—Anthon or Tyler.
- Surveying and Navigation—Davies.
- Natural Philosophy; Mechanics—Bartlett.
- Demosthenes on the Crown—Champlin.

JUNIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Logic—Whately, Thomson and Lectures.
- Select Greek Tragedies—Woolsey and Felton.
- Longinus on the Sublime, or Aristotle's Rhetoric.

2.—SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

Students in this Course recite, so far as the studies coincide, with those in the Classical Department, using the same text books.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Modern History: Algebra.
- French—Value's Ollendorff; De Fivas' Classical Reader.

SECOND TERM.
- Modern History, continued; Algebra completed.
- French—Ollendorff; De Fivas' Reader.

THIRD TERM.
- Modern History, completed; Geometry.
- French—Ollendorff; Callot's Dramatic Reader.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Rhetoric; Geometry, completed; Plane and Spherical Trigonometry and Mensuration.
- German—Woodbury's New Method, and Eclectic German Reader.

SECOND TERM.
- History of English Literature: Analytical Geometry.
- German—Woodbury, continued; Oltrogge's Lesebuch.

THIRD TERM.
- Surveying and Navigation.
- Natural Philosophy: Mechanics.
- German—Heyse's Grammar; Lesebuch, completed.

JUNIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Logic; Chemistry.
- Differential and Integral Calculus.

SECOND TERM.
- Natural Philosophy: Mechanics, completed; Electricity and Magnetism; Acoustics and Optics, commenced.
- Lectures on French Language and Literature.

THIRD TERM.
- Natural Philosophy; Acoustics and Optics, completed.
- Astronomy, Anatomy and Physiology—Loomis.
- Zoology, commenced—Agassiz.
- Lectures on German Language and Literature.

SENIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.
- Intellectual Philosophy.
- Astronomy, completed.
- Zoology, completed.

SECOND TERM.
- Moral and Political Philosophy; International and Constitutional Law.
- Civil Engineering and Construction.

THIRD TERM.
- Evidences of Natural and Revealed Religion.
- Political Economy.
- Geology—Hitchcock.

Findlay's Classical Atlas, or Kiepert's Atlas der alten Welt.
Worcester's Dictionary.

GEOLOGICAL AND MINERALOGICAL CABINETS.

A most valuable and important addition to the educational means of the University has been recently made, by the purchase of the Great Cabinets of Geology and Mineralogy, collected by Mr. Henry A. Ward, now Professor of the Natural Sciences in this Institution. This purchase, at the low price of $20,000, has been accomplished by special subscription, made by liberal friends of the University, mainly in the city of Rochester. These Cabinets, now in process of arrangement, will occupy ten rooms in the third story of Anderson Hall, the largest of which rooms is 58 by 33 feet. The glass cases in which they are contained, are nearly 700 feet in length, and are of such form as to give them the most perfect exhibition. These cabinets are an encyclopedia of the sciences which they illustrate. They were collected by Prof. Ward during six years of extensive foreign travel, and during many careful visits to a large number of the most fruitful American localities. Having been compiled from the first upon a plan which contemplated the most complete illustration of every point in these two departments of inorganic nature, it is believed that these Cabinets offer opportunities to students in these sciences which have not hitherto been presented in this country.

The Cabinet of Geology commences with a collection of over 3,000 rocks, arranged in orders and families, in explanation of the science of Lithology. Every rock species, as recognized by the latest authors, is contained in this series; and all points of interest in Technical or Economical Geology are illustrated with special prominence.

Another series of rocks presents those which are to some extent characteristic of the several geological formations. Other series are geographical in their character, and show the student the mineral composition of some typical geological regions—as the Plutonic district of the Alps, the metamorphic strata of Tuscany, the products of extinct volcanoes of Central

France, and the active volcanoes of Italy and Sicily, the Tertiary formations of the Paris Basin, and the mining districts of Saxony.

The collection of Fossils are from the standard localities in Europe and America, and represent the animal and vegetable life which covered the surface of our planet during each one of the great geological periods. The student here sees the earliest forms of animal life which teemed upon the land or in the waters, and can trace the addition of higher forms, as he passes along the series from the Corals and Shells of the Silurian period, to the gigantic Reptiles of the Oolite and the Mammals of the Tertiary.

A prominent feature of the Cabinet is that it contains Plaster Copies, perfect in form and dimension, of all those well known genera of fossil Quadrupeds, the Labyrinthodon, Icthyosaurus, Plesiosaurus, Pterodactyle, Iguanodon, Megalosaurus, Mosasaurus, Zeuglodon, Megatherium, Mastodon, Cavern Bear, etc., etc.

A final section of the Geological Cabinet is a series of models, maps, sections, ideal landscapes, and cuts of fossils, intended to illustrate the lectures which are given upon these subjects.

The Cabinet of Minerals is equally rich and comprehensive. It begins with several extensive series of specimens intended to demonstrate the subjects of Crystallography, and the Physical Properties of Minerals.

The large systematic collection contains about 5,000 choice specimens, representing four-fifths of all the mineral species known. These are arranged according to the classification adopted in the last edition of Dana's system of Mineralogy, and are very handsomely mounted and carefully labelled.

These two Cabinets contain, in the aggregate, over 40,000 carefully selected specimens, and have by their equal representation of all the parts of the sciences of Geology and Mineralogy, as well as by their great size and beauty elicited the unqualified admiration of men of science of the highest distinction who have visited them. Many of these gentlemen, whose opinions would be decisive to all familiar with these sciences, have pronounced the Geological Cabinet, for the purposes of instruction, without an equal upon the American Continent.

LIBRARY.

The Library of the University is open at stated periods for consultation, and for the drawing of books. All the students have access to the Library on the payment of a small fee.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES.

Orations are pronounced before the University, by students in the third term of the Junior, and the first and second terms of the Senior year; each student being required to exhibit twice in each term.

The Freshmen and Sophomore Classes have a regular weekly exercise in Declamation, and Juniors and Sophomores are required to present original essays twice in each term.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The public duties of each day are opened at a quarter before nine o'clock, A. M., with reading of Scriptures and Prayer, in the University Chapel. The students are required to attend, unless specially excused by the Faculty.

RECITATIONS AND LECTURES.

The recitations are heard from 9 to 12 o'clock A. M., each class having three daily exercises of one hour. The number or length of these exercises may be increased at the discretion of the Faculty. On Saturday the classes attend in the Lecture Room but one hour. Instruction is given in text books, in connection with frequent Lectures.

MERIT ROLL.

An exact daily record is kept of the attendance, conduct, and recitations of each student, as well as of the sufficiency and insufficiency of the excuses rendered for delinquency. Summaries of these records are made for every term and year. Being kept in a permanent form, they will determine the standing of each student at any period of his connection with the University, and in the end will exhibit a complete history of his College course for subsequent reference.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS CULTURE.

It is the aim of the Faculty, in connection with the discipline of the intellect, to inculcate a pure morality, and the great truths and duties of Evangelical Christianity. Weekly prayer-meetings are held in all the classes in the University. A Missionary Society for Inquiry, composed of members of the University and of the Theological Seminary, holds two public meetings monthly—one for prayer, and the other for a report on some important theme connected with the Missionary enterprise.

Parents and guardians are requested to designate places of worship, at which their sons or wards shall regularly attend on the Sabbath; and, also, to entrust the general supervision of their pecuniary expenditures either to some member of the Faculty, or to some other responsible person in the city.

In the Greek department there is a weekly recitation in the Greek New Testament.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. Of all the Classes at the close of the first and second terms, on the studies of the term.
2. Of the Senior Class, four weeks before Commencement.
3. Of the other Classes, the week before Commencement, on the studies of the term.

Examinations are conducted by a combination of written and oral exercises. In the Greek and Latin Departments, students are required to make written translations, in the presence of the examining officer, of passages not previously read.

PUBLIC EXERCISES.

1. Junior Exhibition, on the fourth Friday in May.
2. Prize Declamation of the Sophomore Class, on the Monday evening preceding Commencement.
3. Commencement on the second Wednesday in July.

EXPENSES.

Board can be obtained in private families at rates varying from $2 00 to $4 00.

Tuition, per term, - - - - -	$12 50
Incidentals, (including Library,) - - -	2 50

The rules for payment of tuition, established by the Trustees, require the settlement of all bills at the commencement of each term ; that students in the partial course pay full tuition, and that orders for tuition on scholarships, be presented as soon as received. No deduction is made for absence.

A large number of students find profitable employment in the city, in teaching private pupils and classes, and in various other occupations; thus enabling themselves to provide, in considerable part, for the expenses of their education.

Indigent students for the Ministry, regularly approved by churches, receive assistance from the New York Baptist Union for Ministerial Education, and, under certain conditions, free tuition from the University.

Other indigent students, of good character, are occasionally assisted from funds at the disposal of the President.

Parents and guardians are earnestly requested to exercise a careful supervision over their sons or wards, and to discriminate between necessary and unnecessary expenses. Experience proves that nothing has a more unfavorable influence upon a student's moral conduct and habits of study, than the unrestrained use of money.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies, the Delphic and Pithonian, have spacious and well furnished halls for their meetings.

PREMIUMS, EXTRA STUDIES, &c.

Premiums are given in the University for Extra Studies, Essays and Declamations. All premiums are divided at the discretion of the Committees of Award.

SENIOR PRIZE ESSAY.

A premium will be given to the member of the Senior Class who shall write the best essay upon a subject selected by the Faculty.

The subject for the present year is—"The Merits of Lord Bacon as a Philosophical Reformer."

A premium is given for the best exercise, by a member of the Sophomore Class, in Declamation.

EXTRA STUDIES WITH PREMIUMS.

Students who are regular in attendance, and whose scholarship in all departments reaches a certain fixed standard, are permitted to pursue studies additional to the required curriculum, with a view to competition for premiums. The names of those who sustain a successful examination, are honorably mentioned, in connection with the names of those who take premiums, in the Annual Catalogues of the University.

JUNIOR CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Junior Class who shall pass the best examination in Mathematical studies selected by the Faculty, which shall have been pursued in addition to the regular and required course.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Sophomore Class who shall pass the best examination upon some portion of a Latin author selected by the Faculty, which shall have been read in addition to the regular and required course of Latin studies.

The examination for the present year will be in the TWENTY-FIRST BOOK OF LIVY, Chapters 1—20, and 30—44.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

A premium will be given to the member of the Freshman Class who shall pass the best examination upon some portion of a Greek author, selected by the Faculty.

The examination for the present year will be on the ORATION OF LYSIAS AGAINST ERATOSTHENES.

EXTRA STUDIES WITHOUT PREMIUMS.

Students who are regular in attendance, and whose scholarship in all departments reaches the standard before mentioned, are permitted to pursue studies additional to the required curriculum, under instructions of the Faculty, without competition for premiums. The successful prosecution of such studies is distinguished by honorable reference in the Annual Catalogues of the University.

AWARDS FOR THE YEAR 1862-63.

 Students in the Scientific Course are marked *; in the Partial Course, †; Dismissed, ‡; Deceased, §.

ORGANIZATION.

The plan of instruction is so adjusted as to allow any who choose to omit the study of Latin or Greek, substituting in their stead Modern Languages, and a more extended Mathematical and Scientific Course. Hence, the students in each class will be divided into two sections, corresponding to the two Courses of Study, and distinguished as the Classical and Scientific Sections.

The Regular Course for all students extends through four years; at the end of which time those who pass a good examination in prescribed studies, are admitted to a degree—those who have pursued the entire Classical Course, to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, and those who have pursued the Scientific Course, to that of Bachelor of Sciences.

Young gentlemen desiring to attend the recitations of particular departments, without becoming candidates for degrees, are allowed to do so, provided they have the requisite preparation for the studies of those departments, and become subject to the laws of the University. This arrangement is designed to meet the wants of those whose age or pursuits prevent them from pursuing either of the Regular Courses, but who are desirous of obtaining the liberal culture which the study of a portion of the Courses will give them. Special pains are taken to give such persons the opportunities for instruction which they require.

ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the University are expected to furnish satisfactory testimonials of character; and if from other colleges, certificates of regular dismission.

No person will be admitted to the Freshmen Class who has not completed his fourteenth year, or to an advanced standing, without a corresponding advance in age.

Monday and Tuesday before Commencement, and the opening of the following term, are the regular times for examining candidates. The examinations may take place at other times, at the discretion of the Faculty.

PREPARATORY STUDIES.

1.—CLASSICAL COURSE.

English, Latin and Greek Grammars, Four Books of Cæsar's Commentaries or Cornelius Nepos, Six Books of Virgil's Æneid, Cicero's Select Orations, Translating English into Latin, Greek Reader, Three Books of Xenophon's Anabasis, Geography, Arithmetic, and Algebra, as far as Quadratic Equations.

2.—SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

Candidates for the Scientific Course are required to sustain a thorough examination in Spelling, Defining, Reading, Writing, Geography, English Grammar, Arithmetic, Algebra as far as Quadratic Equations, English Composition, History of the United States, Ancient History and Geography, (equal to the amount of Taylor's Manual,) and Constitution of the United States; and are recommended to pursue the study of Latin, at least one year, as a preparation for the study of English and other modern Languages.

Persons who wish to pursue studies in this city or vicinity, preparatory to admission to the University, will find ample facilities for so doing, under the advice and direction of the Faculty.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

1.—CLASSICAL COURSE.

FRESHMAN CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Modern History.
- Lessons on Morals and Christian Evidence—Whately.
- Algebra—Davies' Bourdon.
- Livy.
- Arnold's Latin Prose Composition.
- Kendrick's Greek Ollendorff.
- Selections from the Greek Historians—Felton.

SECOND TERM.

- Modern History, continued.
- Homer's Iliad—Felton.
- Livy.
- Latin Prose Composition.
- Greek Ollendorff, completed.
- Algebra, completed.

THIRD TERM.

- Homer's Iliad or Odyssey—Felton or Owen.
- Principles of English Grammar and Composition.
- Geometry—Robinson's new edition.

SOPHOMORE CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Rhetoric—Whately.
- Geometry, completed. Plane and Spherical Trigonometry—Robinson.
- Select Roman Comedies and Satires.

SECOND TERM.

- History of Modern Literature—Spalding and Schlegel.
- Analytical Geometry—Davies.
- Select Orations of Demosthenes.
- French.

THIRD TERM.

- Selections from Tacitus—Anthon or Tyler.
- Surveying and Navigation—Davies.
- Natural Philosophy; Mechanics—Bartlett.
- Demosthenes on the Crown.

JUNIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Logic—Whately, Thomson and Lectures.
- Select Greek Tragedies—Woolsey and Felton.
- Longinus on the Sublime, or Aristotle's Rhetoric.
- Differential and Integral Calculus. An extra study.
- Chemistry.

SECOND TERM.

- German.
- Select Greek Tragedies. Lectures on Greek Literature.
- Natural Philosphy; Mechanics, completed. Electricity and Magnetism; Acoustics and Optics, commenced.

THIRD TERM.

- Select Odes and Epistles of Horace.
- Natural Philosophy; Acoustics and Optics, completed.
- Astronomy—Bartlett.
- Anatomy and Physiology—Loomis.
- Zoology, commenced—Agassiz.

SENIOR CLASS.

FIRST TERM.

- Intellectual Philosophy—Hamilton and Lectures.
- Readings and Prelections in Plato, and Aristotle's Ethics.
- Lectures on Greek Philosophy.
- Astronomy, completed.

Findlay's Classical Atlas, or Kiepert's Atlas der alten Welt.
Worcester's Dictionary.

GEOLOGICAL AND MINERALOGICAL CABINETS.

A valuable and most important addition to the educational means of the University has been recently made, by the purchase of the Great Cabinets of Geology and Mineralogy, collected by Mr. Henry A. Ward, now Professor of the Natural Sciences in this Institution. This purchase, at the low price of $20,000, has been accomplished by special subscription, made by liberal friends of the University, mainly in the city of Rochester. These Cabinets, now in process or arrangement, will occupy ten rooms in the third story of Anderson Hall, the largest of which rooms is 58 by 33 feet. The glass cases in which they are contained, are nearly 700 feet in length, and are of such form as to give them the most perfect exhibition. These cabinets are an encyclopedia of the sciences which they illustrate. They were collected by Professor Ward during six years of extensive foreign travel, and during many careful visits to a large number of the most fruitful American localities. Having been compiled from the first upon a plan which contemplates the most complete illustration of every point in these two departments of inorganic nature, it is believed that these Cabinets offer opportunities to students in these sciences which have not hitherto been presented in this country.

The Cabinet of Geology commences with a collection of over 3,000 rocks, arranged in orders and families, in explanation of the science of Lithology. Every rock species, as recognized by the latest authors, is contained in this series; and all points of interest in Technical or Economical Geology are illustrated with special prominence.

Another series of rocks presents those which are to some extent characteristic of the several geological formations. Other series are geographical in their character, and show the student the mineral composition of some typical geological region—as the Plutonic district of the Alps, the metamorphic strata of Tuscany, the products of extinct volcanoes of Central France, and the active volcanoes of Italy and Sicily, the Tertiary formations of the Paris Basin, and the mining districts of Saxony.

The collection of Fossils are from the standard localities in Europe and America, and represent the animal and vegetable life which covered the surface of our planet during each one of the great geological periods. The student here sees the earliest forms of animal life which teemed upon the land or in the waters, and can trace the addition of higher forms, as he passes along the series from the Corals and Shells of the Silurian period to the gigantic Reptiles of the Oolite and the Mammals of the Tertiary.

A prominent feature of the Cabinet is that it contains Plaster Copies, perfect in form and dimension, of all those well known genera of fossil Quadrupeds, the Labyrinthodon, Icthyosaurus, Plesiosaurus, Pterodactyle, Iguanodon, Megalosaurus, Mosasaurus, Zeuglodon, Megatherium, Mastodon, Cavern Bear, etc., etc.

A fine section of the Geological Cabinet is a series of models, maps, sections, ideal landscapes, and cuts of fossils, intended to illustrate the lectures which are given upon these subjects.

The Cabinet of Minerals is equally rich and comprehensive. It begins with several extensive series of specimens intended to demonstrate the subjects of Crystallography, and the Physical Properties of Minerals.

The large systematic collection contains about 5,000 choice specimens, representing four-fifths of all the mineral species known. These are arranged according to the classification adopted in the last edition of Dana's system of Mineralogy, and are very handsomely mounted and carefully labelled.

These two Cabinets contain, in the aggregate, over 40,000 carefully selected specimens, and have by their equal representation of all the parts of the sciences of Geology and Mineralogy, as well as by their great size and beauty elicited the unqualified admiration of men of science of the highest distinction who have visited them. Many of these gentlemen, whose opinions would be decisive to all familiar with these sciences, have pronounced the Geological Cabinet, for the purposes of instruction, without an equal upon the American Continent.

LIBRARY.

The Library of the University is open daily at stated times for consultation, and for the drawing of books. All the students have access to the Library on the payment of a small fee.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES.

Orations are pronounced before the University, by students in the third term of the Junior, and the first and second terms of the Senior year; each student being required to exhibit twice in each term.

The Freshmen and Sophomore Classes have a regular weekly exercise in Declamation, and Juniors and Sophomores are required to present original essays twice in each term.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

The public duties of each day are opened at a quarter before 9 o'clock, A. M., with reading of the Scriptures and Prayer, in the University Chapel. The students are required to attend, unless specially excused by the Faculty.

RECITATIONS AND LECTURES.

The recitations are heard from 9 to 12 o'clock A. M., each class having three daily exercises of one hour. The number or length of these exercises may be increased at the discretion of the Faculty. On Saturday the classes attend in the Lecture Room but one hour. Instruction is given in text books, in connection with frequent Lectures.

MERIT ROLL.

An exact daily record is kept of the attendance, conduct, and recitations of each student, as well as of the sufficiency and insufficiency of the excuses rendered for delinquency. Summaries of these records are made for every term and year. Being kept in a permanent form, they will determine the standing of each student at any period of his connection with the University, and in the end will exhibit a complete history of his College course for subsequent reference.

MORAL AND RELIGIOUS CULTURE.

It is the aim of the Faculty, in connection with the discipline of the intellect, to inculcate a pure morality, and the great truths and duties of Evangelical Christianity. Weekly prayer-meetings are held in all the classes in the University. A Missionary Society for Inquiry, composed of members of the University and of the Theological Seminary, holds two public meetings monthly—one for prayer, and the other for a report on some important theme connected with the Missionary enterprise.

Parents and guardians are requested to designate places of worship, at which their sons or wards shall regularly attend of the Sabbath; and, also, to entrust the general supervision of their pecuniary expenditures either to some member of the Faculty, or to some other responsible person in the city.

In the Greek department there is a weekly recitation, in the Greek New Testament.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. Of all the Classes at the close of the first and second terms, on the studies of the term.

2. Of the Senior Class, four weeks before commencement.

3. Of the other Classes, the week before commencement, on the studies of the term.

Examinations are conducted by a combination of written and oral exercises. In the Greek and Latin Departments, students are required to make written translations, in the presence of the examining officer, of passages not previously read.

PUBLIC EXERCISES.

1. Junior Exhibition, on the fourth Friday in May.

2. Prize Declamation of the Sophomore Class, on the Monday evening preceding Commencement.

3. Commencement on the second Wednesday in July.

EXPENSES.

Board can be obtained in private families at rates varying from $2 00 to $4 00.

Tuition, per term, including incidentals.....$20 00

The rules for payment of tuition, established by the Trustees, require the settlement of all bills at the commencement of each term; that students in the partial course pay full tuition, and that orders for tuition on scholarships be presented as soon as recieved. No deduction is made for absence.

A large number of students find profitable employment in the city, in teaching private pupils and classes, and in various other occupations; thus enabling themselves to provide, in considerable part, for the expenses of their education.

Indigent students for the Ministry, regularly approved by churches. receive assistance from the New York Baptist Union for Ministerial Education, and, under certain conditions, free tuition from the University.

Other indigent students, of good character, are occasionally assisted from funds at the disposal of the President.

Parents and guardians are earnestly requested to exercise a careful supervision over their sons or wards, and to discriminate between necessary and unnecessary expenses. Experience proves that nothing has a more unfavorable influence upon a student's moral conduct and habits of study, than the unrestrained use of money.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Delphic Society, an organization for Debate and other Literary exercises, is in successful operation.

PREMIUMS, EXTRA STUDIES, &c.

Premiums are given in the University for Extra Studies, Essays and Declamations. All premiums are divided at the discretion of the Committees of Award.
